

Kelly A. Matula
Curriculum Vitae
Phone: (856) 220-8287
E-mail: kmatula@princeton.edu

Current Address:
Box 1999 Frist Campus Center
Princeton University
Princeton, NJ 08544

Permanent Address:
435 Liberty Lane
Marlton, NJ 08053

EDUCATION

Princeton University: Princeton, NJ

B.A., English (with coursework equivalent to Psychology minor), Expected June 2009

Current GPA: 3.903

Senior Thesis: “Broken Containers: Memory Theory and Memory Literature in David Copperfield and A la recherche du temps perdu”

- Examined relation of Copperfield and the Recherche to philosophies of memory current when the works were written.

Psychology Courses: Introduction to Psychology (Fall 2005); Cognitive Psychology (Spring 2006); Memory and Cognition (Fall 2007); Personality (Spring 2008); The Psychology of Decision Making and Judgment (Fall 2008); The Brain: A User’s Guide (Introductory Neuroscience; Fall 2008); Quantitative Methods (Statistics; Spring 2009)

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Princeton University Department of Psychology, Princeton, NJ

Lab intern, Oppenheimer Lab, May 2008-Present

Duties: Assisted with experimental design and stimulus generation, administered survey tests to subjects, assisted with data analysis, assisted with preparation of grant proposal.

Supervisor: Daniel M. Oppenheimer, PhD

Lab intern, Kwan Lab, May-September 2008

Duties: Assisted with preparation and editing of chapter on self-enhancement bias for undergraduate-level textbook.

Supervisor: Virginia S. Y. Kwan, PhD

MANUSCRIPTS IN PREPARATION

Kwan, V. S. Y., Matula, K. A., Wojcik, S. P., & Rodriguez, K. B. A review of the componential approach to self-enhancement.

ACADEMIC SERVICE

Advisory Committee to the Office of Disability Services, Princeton University — 2007-2009

OTHER WORK EXPERIENCE

Educational Testing Service, Princeton, NJ

Intern, TOEFL Writing Summer Institute, Summer 2008

Duties: Wrote test items for the Writing section of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL).

Intern, TOEFL Reading Summer Institute, Summer 2007

Duties: Wrote test questions for the Reading section of the TOEFL.

Princeton University Press, Princeton, NJ

Editorial Department Intern, January-May 2008

Duties: Arranged for shipment of advance copies of books, processed check requisitions, maintained databases of author information, photocopied manuscripts, answered phone calls.

Weisman Children's Rehabilitation Hospital, Marlton, NJ

Outpatient Rehab Aide, Summer 2006

Duties: Cleaned rooms and equipment, assisted therapists in sessions, assisted with scheduling.

COMPUTER SKILLS

Statistical analysis software: SPSS

Programming: basic proficiency in Java and MATLAB

General: Microsoft Office, familiarity with basic Windows networking issues

REFERENCES

Available upon request